

Georgia Service Center

Royce Bosselman

Marketing Director

Atlanta, Georgia

770-246-0026

Royce is from Richmond, Illinois and attended Roosevelt Military Academy in Aledo, Illinois, graduated from Richmond High School and attended Bradley University in Peoria. Royce was in the military from 1953 to 1956; and, he graduated from the Army Officer's Candidate School in Fort Benning, Georgia before spending two years in the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, NC.

Royce began his claims adjusting career in 1961 with General Adjustment Bureau (now GAB Robbins). He has experience in property, casualty, inland marine and aviation claims. He was assigned to offices in Illinois, Ohio, Kentucky and Georgia in the positions of Adjuster, Branch manager, Casualty Supervisor and Regional manager. He transferred to Atlanta in 1981, as GAB's Sales and Marketing Manager for the Southeast.

In 1985, Royce joined AIG Aviation Insurance Company as Branch Manager for the ten southeastern states. His responsibilities involved claims for hull, liability and product liability. In 1994, Royce took over the supervision for major hull claims worldwide.

Royce is a past President of Southern Loss Association and past Chairman of the Board for the Aviation Crime Prevention Institute and served on the Aviation Inter-Company Arbitration Board. He has served as an expert witness involving insurance policy wording, definitions and bad faith actions during settlement negotiations. He retired from the position of Senior Vice President for AIG Aviation in 1999.

He joined Unified Investigations & Sciences, Inc in February 2001 as Marketing Director for the Georgia Service Center.